THIS CHILD IS DEAF

*This child is deaf. Forever shut from him
The voice of speech that falls upon his ear;
His lifelong silence shall remain a wall—
Or so they said. But with our love and help He, too, will hear the voice; if not of speech, Then sure of treasured books; of symphonies
In motion where he'll see the music surge
As waves come rolling into shore, or break Upon some rockbound coast. O, catch these joys Dear Child! And learn, and we will help you see The beauty spread o'er God's infinite world.
You are not deaf—God did not shut the voice
That plays upon the heartstrings which are tuned
To poetry of motion: as the gull Wings down above the whitecaps of the sea;
Or to the rhythm of furrowed fields, new-plowed
Or to the heavy beating of the rain
As it storms down in slanting needle-shafts;
Or to the whispering of the pines that stand As sentinels about new-fallen snow.
—He needs not ears who opens wide his eyes,
And hears, within, the voice responsive play!*

—Stephen W. Kozl

To: James Belong glad to have a nice summer vacation. You have to glad to see at me today. The Mad boy are angry of me. I said you that if I want to be cool your job. I know that you was nice to quiet about any boy. Let's beat Steve Johnson or any boy. I will see you next year. I will play with you in football on August 13th. You didn't worry about me.
